Ready-to-use Custom Lead List

THE BUSINESS PROBLEM

Since the year 2000, B2B marketing has undergone dramatic changes – in strategy, approach, budget and time. Marketing simply can't be as effective if you're unclear who your targets are and who to approach. In growing organizations, field sales have bigger pressures than they did in the past. They are focused solely on closing deals for the month or quarter. So, they have little time for prospect research and target list building.

The additional pressure on sales team led to longer sales cycle and reduced revenue. Management and marketers around the organization began to worry about this growing revenue and sales cycle and started to outsource prospect list building and verification services to third party to solve the problem.

MIINFOTECH LEAD RESEARCH SERVICE

Deciding which B2B data provider(s) to choose can be very overwhelming. You can count on making a big investment when it comes to purchasing data, so it's important to choose the right vendor and start an engagement with no regrets.
